The tutorial will present clinical cases; working groups and break-out sessions will be used to discuss these cases. The didactic presentations will be focused on the issues raised in diagnostic challenges.

The Tutorial is designed to address critical issues that must be considered when developing new tools to aid clinical decision-making for patients with cancer.

The Tutorial is only open to selected young oncologists and pharmaceutical industry representatives. This Tutorial is being held in Brussels in conjunction with the EORTC – NCI – ASCO Annual Meeting on “Molecular Markers in Cancer”.
